Christ Lutheran Women News

CLW met September 12th, and continued the His Marvelous Mercy Bible study with "Mercy for Mules...and the Milieu," leading us to consider Job, the flood, and all of God's wonderful blessings in the natural world, and how we are to care for them.

The short business meeting covered preparations for Rally Sunday, the Women's retreat, and the reinstatement of an Altar Guild. October's CLW will be on the 10th, and will only include a quick meeting, followed by the indoor cleaning day, which will have plenty of jobs for women AND men. That should get underway about 9:30, and shouldn't take too long with lots of volunteers. We hope to see you there, ready to make our church sparkle and shine.

Fear and Love

"Wisdom has built her house; she has hewn her seven pillars." It is hard to align so many schedules. It can be hard to spend an evening away from the demands and comforts of home. Home and family are a priority. Sometimes we need to step outside our home and join together as a church family too. A night away in fellowship with believers of all ages may encourage us to stop and reflect on the blessings all around us that are so commonplace we forget. Growing to understand the temporal place of fear and the eternal place of love is eye opening. Sharing time with a fellow believer in discussion about love and fear reveals some of the things we have come to take for granted. Some of the small blessings are littles glimpses of Godly love.

Classical Enrichment

What we wish to avoid: "The person who sits with hunched shoulders.... Being a slave to a particular kind of work, this person will naturally become knowledgeable about one very specific subject. He knows exactly how to stack Widget A on top of Widget B."

What we seek to embrace: "As a student continues to learn not just geography but math, science, history, and literature, his mental map will hold not just cities and rivers but trees and weather systems, peoples and poems, fictional heroes and historical scoundrels. Educated in the classical manner, he will be able to situate all these little pieces into the whole of his learning, locating them somewhere on the map and locating himself in their midst, he will have a comfortable familiarity with them and an ease in handling new pieces that are similar to the ones he already knows. He will not panic when he cannot place them immediately because long experience has taught him that all the truths that are really true will ultimately fit together into a single map.
